

Resource centre

We house the UK's largest set of online and physical resources to support the teaching of STEM subjects.

Our resource centre is home to thousands of physical resources such as gadgets, interactive content, textbooks and archive collections for you to browse through at your own pleasure.

The collections in the Centre are for reference only, but there are resources, such as posters, that can be taken away for free.

The resource centre is open during office hours 8:30am-5:00pm.

If you and your colleagues would like time away from your school to discuss new ideas, why not hire one of our seminar or teaching rooms free of charge? Take the time to explore our resource centre which will give you all of the inspiration you need for new lesson plans. Catering charges will apply.
