

HEaTED North West Regional Network Event

University of Liverpool. Friday 17 October 2014, 9.30am – 4.00pm

This HEaTED Event Is Sponsored By lorensbergs.

Venue: University of Liverpool, Room SR1, Life Sciences Building, Crown Street
Liverpool, L69 7ZB. See Life Sciences Building 215 <http://www.liv.ac.uk/files/docs/maps/liverpool-university-campus-map.pdf>

Audience: Technical Staff, Professional Services Staff, Technical Managers, Technical Team Leaders and Staff Development Professionals from HE and FE Institutions across the Region.

Brief: The North West HEaTED Regional Network provides a forum for discussion and communication between Technical Managers, Technical staff, and Staff Development/HR colleagues from across the Region. The Network promotes training events, the sharing of knowledge, skills and best practice amongst Technical staff and increased awareness of the opportunities and facilities provided by HEaTED and member institutions. At this time of significant change in the HE/FE environment maintaining a focus on high quality provision of services and taking staff forward through these changes becomes increasingly important.

Theme: Terrorist attacks in the UK are a real and serious danger. Crowded locations and sites which hold hazardous substances, are likely to feature in the attack plans of terrorist organisations in the future. The morning workshop aims to provide an overview of the current terrorist threat, how to recognise suspicious behaviour, utilise protective security and the role we can play in tackling the threat.

The afternoon session will provide further insight and introduce us to areas of Technical support and collaboration at the University of Liverpool.
